

Polygonum aviculare L.

WHO

Mongolian name

Shuvuun tarna,
Budneen suul, Gakhain
nogoo

Tibetan name

Nyalo

English name

Common Knotweed

WHO

Synonyms: P. aequale Linadm., P. agreste Sumnev., P. aphyllum Krock., P. araraticum Komarov, P. arenastrum Boreau, P. aviculare subsp. aequale (Lindm.) Asch. & Graebn. [1].

Description: Annuals with less branched roots. 10–30 tall stem branched from the base till the tip. Leaves obtuse, linear to lanceolate, tapering to the base and ending by short stalks. Flowers in leaf axils. Perianth green, with white or red margin, 5-cleft, divided to mid-length. Nutlets black-brown and trigonous.